RARE PIGEON FARM

INTERESTING PIGEON BREEDING
EXPERIMENTS ARE MADE AT RED WING RANCH

After fifteen years' experience in pigeon raising and poultry breeding, Walter M. Ross and Mrs. Ross have a right to think that they know something about the art. On Red Wing ranch, 224 West Colorado street, the Rosses have a unique ranch, where Mrs. Ross makes interesting experiments in the breeding and cross-breeding of pigeons. For nine and a half years their business was conducted in Los Angeles and was successful in a high degree. During the past five and a half years they have been in Glendale and have created a large and profitable business on their present premises.

Experiments with many breeds of pigeons taught the Rosses that the Carneau was the most profitable for the squab business. All the squabs they can raise find an easy market. Mr. Ross started in with the Salt Lake railway's dining car service, supplying squabs to that department. Now the demand is so great that his supply needs to be supplemented with birds raised by others. The demand is greatest in winter, when other sources of meat supply fail to a certain extent.

Carneau—red, white, black, yellow and splashes—are to be found on Red Wing ranch in large numbers. The whites and blacks have been bred from the splashes by Mrs. Ross, who is an expert in this business. No other pigeon farm has been able to breed blacks. They are the peculiar product of Mrs. Ross' ingenuity and patience and are valuable. The experiment in breeding them is still going on. By and by all not absolutely pure black birds will be eliminated and the pure black Carneau will be a fixed product.

"If handled with diligence and care," said Mr. Ross to a representative of the Glendale Evening News, "there is a margin of profit in raising squabs, but that margin can easily be wiped out by carelessness. Pigeons live to the age of from ten to twelve years and some have been known to reach the age of eighteen. You see there is very little difference in the appearance of these two sets of birds, yet one set is eight years old and the other only squabs. When other birds reach the age of seven or eight years we mate them with young birds and that secures their continuance in breeding.

"The pigeon is a bird of real family instinct. He mates with one mate during the season and remains faithful to her and she to him. Every bird in the nests has a tag on the leg. That tag is numbered and it shows the same number as that of his mate. Should a bird die we can at once pick out the mate and remate him or her. Sometimes an odd bird is found that deserts his or her mate and mates with some other, but that is rare. The male bird sits on the eggs by day and the female at night. They also share in feeding the young, so that they are fully occupied with their domestic duties, and they have no time for any vagaries of affection.

"Some of our birds are entirely for show purposes. Those fancy varieties fetch prices as high as $50 a pair. There is always a good demand for them. Our varieties have won so many prizes, cups and ribbons at the different shows that they are well known. Those birds are very large and particularly fine. At the age of four weeks they weigh about one and a half pounds. It costs about five cents a month for feed for each bird. That is reasonable. Feed is cheap at present, but then it runs into money when one has, as we have, more than 2000 birds to feed.

"Our black Carneau are quite a rarity and are coming into demand. "Here," said Mr. Ross, "is a pen with a cross between the red Carneau and the Maltese hen pigeon. Some of these products, you see, incline toward the hen pigeon shape and some to the Carneau. By and by a genuine type will be evolved from this cross. The blacks, I may say, were bred from a pair of 'sports' as they are called. Those were black birds hatched from the regular eggs. That is all in Mrs. Ross' department. To her is due the credit of producing and rearing these different varieties."

In another part of the ranch are to be seen white Japanese Silkies, a species of chicken that has peculiarly silky white feathers almost like wool. Here again is a pen of guinea hens. "When we go to our new ranch," said Mr. Ross, "we will have quite a number of those guinea hens. They are the finest watchdogs ever known. Rome, it is said, was saved by the cackling of the geese at the capitol.

WELCOME TO AVERY

GLENDALIAN NEBRASKANS ENTERTAIN CHANCELLOR OF THEIR STATE UNIVERSITY

Dr. Samuel Avery, chancellor of the State University of Nebraska, and Mrs. Avery are honored guests in Glendale this week. They arrived Friday afternoon. Saturday evening an elaborate reception and banquet was given in Dr. Avery's honor at the Union League club, Los Angeles, under the auspices of the University of Nebraska club, and the Nebraska State society.

Mr. A. L. Weaver of Glendale was the general chairman on arrangements. An elaborate six-course dinner was followed by toasts given by the following: Victor L. McLucas, toastmaster, Mabel H. Stephens, Judge R. W. Richardson, Chancellor Avery, Dr. A. T. Carlton, Mrs. L. E. Troyer and Harry H. Culver.

Dr. Avery in his response to the welcome extended to him from the University club and the Nebraska State society, gave a most interesting account of the milestones in the history of the university in the four years which have elapsed since his last visit to California.

At the close of the banquet Mrs. Avery was presented with a huge armful of scarlet and cream carnations, the university colors. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Weaver, 235 South Kenwood street, Miss Elsie Arbuthnot, 334 North Maryland avenue, and Miss Ruth Storm, 142 South Kenwood street, are among the Glendale people who attended the banquet given in Dr. Avery's honor. Miss Callie Porter, who is a classmate of Mrs. Avery, and her mother, Mrs. Porter, 819 West Fifth street, are the hostesses of Dr. and Mrs. Avery during their visit.

A few days this week will be devoted by the chancellor and his wife to a visit to the San Diego exposition and interesting points in the vicinity. Much pressure is being exerted to persuade Dr. Avery to remain in Southern California for the Nebraska State Society picnic, which takes place this coming Saturday at Hermosa Beach. Former graduates of the university who were unable to attend the banquet will probably have an opportunity of seeing Mr. Avery at the picnic on Saturday.

TO BACK WAR CREDIT

German Socialists Will Vote for $2,000,000 Military Fund

Special Service to Glendale Evening News

BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 18.—It is credibly reported here that a majority of the Socialist representatives will vote in favor of the new war credit of $2,000,000 tomorrow, when the matter comes before the Reichstag, despite the protests of Dr. Carl Liebknecht, the Socialist leader. Liebknecht has planned to ask the government what peace terms Germany would consider at this time.

The labor element in Germany is demanding action against the food speculators.

I can easily believe it. Those guinea hens are quiet enough, as you see, but let anyone try to invade their territory at night and they will make a noise loud enough to raise the dead."

In addition to the Japanese chickens, the ranch has a fine strain of red silkies bred out of the white Japs and Rhode Island red bantams, and also a fine breed of silver wyandottes. One of the cockerels of this breed won first prize at the Los Angeles poultry show last year.

Mr. Ross is himself secretary of the Southern California Poultry Breeders' association and is quite an authority and an accomplished lecturer on poultry raising and methods of breeding squabs, but he is very modest about it.

In another pen in the chicken quarter are to be seen magpie pigeons, a very pretty fancy variety, and also fantails of a very fine breed. Here, too, are silver spangled Hamburg chickens, kept for laying purposes. Besides attending to breeding, the ranch puts up a very excellent grit for chickens and squabs.

Mrs. Ross, in addition to her numerous duties, also breeds black Persian kittens and red Persians. There is quite a demand for this breed at Christmas time for presents. The reference made by Mr. Ross to the time when he is to leave this ranch refers to the fact that he and his clever wife intend to move out to Montrose after about six months. They have purchased six acres there and intend to have a very fine poultry and pigeon farm.

STORM DESTROYS INLAND CITIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SMITHVILLE, Texas, Aug. 18.—When the crew of the Santa Fe work train arrived here today from Texas City, it reported that the terrific storm which had swept the Gulf of Mexico and damaged Galveston, had moved inland and destroyed many towns and had probably caused heavy loss of life. Ten houses were demolished at Belaire and two persons were killed there.

Eighteen bodies were found at Hitchcock, twenty miles from Galveston. The town of Laporte was practically destroyed. Seabrooke was obliterated and several persons drowned there. Only one house remains standing at Sylvan Beach. One person is known to have been killed in Houston and scores were injured there. The property loss will run into many millions. J. A. Black and five members of the Riggs family are reported drowned at Morgan's Point.

GREAT SLAV FORTRESS, 100,000 MEN AND 400 CANNON ARE CAPTURED BY KAISER'S MEN—VON HINDENBURG STILL ADVANCES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 18.—Kovno, the great Russian fortress that was to play a prominent part in the new Russian scheme of defense, has fallen before the assaults of the Germans. It is believed that the kaiser's troops have taken 100,000 men at this point, though that is not certain. It is positively stated that they have captured 400 cannon. The Russians must now retreat to Vilna, ninety miles to the east. This is the most important victory over the Russians since the capture of Warsaw. The Russians cannot now hope to hold the Kovno-Brest-Litovsk line.

WOMEN NEED PLAY

MRS. PERCE H. CURTIS SAYS PHYSICAL CULTURE DEMANDS SENSIBLE DRESS

Quite a flood of approving criticism has been evoked by the address on "A University Playground for Women," given by Harriet W. Thompson of the department of physical education, University of Oregon, before the Departmental Congress of Physical Education of the National Education Congress of the United States, now meeting at Oakland, Cal. Among other things the speaker said that the present period is highly transitional for women and finds the majority unprepared to grasp the situation or to handle themselves efficiently under the changing conditions. Individualism and lack of co-operation are ascribed as the causes.

"From infancy women have been unnaturally restricted, physically and mentally, and reach maturity less capable than men. Men and women are governed by the same laws of growth and as men have developed qualities that enable them to achieve greater progress than women, the conditions under which they have developed must contain elements needed for women's progress."

"That men are free to play from boyhood to old age, unrestricted by tight clothes and convention, and do so, and that women are not so blessed, will account for most of their individualism and lack of co-operation."

Commenting on these ideas, Mrs. Perce H. Curtis, 1420 Oak street, said to a representative of the Glendale Evening News: "I am glad to learn that the universities are at last beginning to devote some attention to the development of women's physical qualities as well as their mental. The old idea of the Romans, 'mens sana in corpore sano'—a sound mind in a sound body, is every day becoming the rule for women as for men."

"This is as it should be. I well remember the old Puritanical ideas that used to prescribe in Boston such voluminous skirts and hampering appointments for women when they wanted to ride on horseback and which made horseback riding almost a purgatory instead of a pleasure. The same ideas have held back women in the past and would even now if the sentiment of the world were not changing."

"It is the same with bathing suits. Those who are legitimately dressed for swimming or learning to swim have nothing wherewith to reproach themselves. Such an exercise as swimming, which is perhaps the most useful for physical development and most valuable as an accomplishment, cannot be pursued to any advantage with a hampering garment or garments. Of course I heartily condemn the practice of non-swimmers sitting in the sand in promiscuous company in a state of undress that shocks ordinary modesty."

"Dress women properly when they are engaged in athletic sports, which are necessary to their highest physical development. Dress them in easy garments when they play tennis or when they golf, and you will better the standard of health of the human race. I look to see the divided skirt take its place in all athletic sports for women and to see the further development of women along that line."

"The University of Oregon is doing well to provide for the recently enfranchised womanhood within its boundaries, by giving them a playground. I am glad to learn that it has already resulted in better general health and in a wider acquaintance among the girls."

CHECKERS TOURNAMENT

Arrangements have been made by Mr. Julius Lehman, playground superintendent, to hold the checkers tournament on the summer playground of the Union High school. The matches arranged are given below. Players who do not appear at the time scheduled must default unless they make satisfactory arrangements between themselves and report these changes at the playground.

Mr. Faries of the Men's Shop has very kindly donated a stickpin as a prize for this competition.

Following are the games as arranged: S. Crandall vs. Carlton West, 9 a. m. Thursday; Mervyn Mills vs. M. Woodward, 10 a. m. Thursday; Joe Fishel vs. B. Balthis, 11 a. m. Thursday; T. Phillips vs. Ed Kent, 1 p. m. Thursday; Art Mathewson vs. O. Wilson, 2 p. m. Thursday; George Hastings vs. D. Anderson, 3 p. m. Thursday; Jess Goldthwaite vs. Miller Fishel, 4 p. m. Thursday; H. Brown vs. Bob Kolts, 5 p. m. Thursday.

GERMANY IS ELATED

TEUTONS BELIEVE RULER OF BULGARIA WILL KEEP THAT COUNTRY NEUTRAL

Special Service to Glendale Evening News

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—All Germany is elated over the Balkan situation, which the Teutons believe to be favorable to themselves. The Germans profess to be in possession of information that is not available to the allies. That information apparently gives them much comfort.

Bulgaria's attitude is the principal cause for the German satisfaction. Despite the statements of the Bulgarian premier in his interview with Henry Wood of the United Press, Germany is almost jocularly optimistic. Apparently Germany has some assurance from Czar Ferdinand.

The Bulgarian czar is as thoroughly German as the kaiser. He is a prince of the Saxe-Coburg Gotha house and did not become the ruler of Bulgaria until he was 26 years of age. His early training was under Teutonic auspices and his viewpoint is exceedingly German. It is unquestionable whether Germany's assurances that the Balkan situation will continue favorable are justified. Even though Czar Ferdinand is willing to go to any lengths to keep his country benevolently neutral, the Bulgars themselves have no divided loyalty. It would be difficult to override them, but the feat is possible.

The Bulgars are smarting under the territorial losses suffered as a result of the Balkan wars and care more for the recovery of this territory than for Ferdinand.

LOCAL PORCH PARTY

In honor of the return of Mrs. Andrew Wightman, 601 S. Central avenue, who has been away on a trip for three months, Mrs. Perce Curtis, 1420 Oak street, gave a most enjoyable porch party Monday. The following ladies were present: Mrs. Andrew Wightman, Mrs. McGill of Redlands, house guest of Mrs. Wightman; Mrs. Bridge of Los Angeles, Mrs. Goodman Phillips, Miss Eva Daniels, Mrs. Plummer Van Sant, Mrs. George Daniels, Mrs. Charles Goodridge, Mrs. John Lamb, Mrs. Purser, Mrs. Ed McKee.

VALUABLE PRIZES

The prizes offered in the Glendale Evening News subscription list are valuable ones and are worth working for. This is an age of automobiles and the Maxwell touring car which is one of the prizes offered in the contest is a standard car and is worth four month's steady work on the part of any of the contestants. The Schiller piano is a high class instrument, priced at $400, and could not be bought for less than $360 from standard dealers. The trip to San Francisco will represent from $60 to $75 money value, and the winner of that prize will be given his choice of the trip or the cash. The $50 certificate of deposit is of course worth $50 and is a handsome prize for anybody.

The business college scholarships are valued at $75 each and given out by the Isaacs-Woodbury college, one of the best in the land.

There is an excellent chance for an energetic young man or woman to enter the contest yet and win a scholarship or get a $50 bank deposit or maybe a trip to San Francisco. The right kind of a worker might even stand a chance of getting an automobile or a piano.

While many new names have been added to the Evening News subscription list there are yet 500 homes in which the paper should go. So there is an excellent opportunity for some one to get into the contest and win a good prize.

The positions occupied by the contestants at 1:30 p. m. today are as follows:

- 1—Morse Freeman.
- 2—Miss Cora Hickman.
- 3—Mrs. J. C. May.

GEORGIA'S DEEP DISGRACE

Who could read the account of the lynching of Leo Frank, as contained in the telegraphic dispatch in the Glendale Evening News Tuesday, without a feeling of shame for the people who could perpetrate so foul a crime. It is not a question of whether or not Frank were guilty. That is not a question for a mob to settle. That question went through the Georgia courts and the mob invaded the court and intimidated the judge and the jury and succeeded in forcing them to bring in a verdict of guilty, which a brave-hearted governor put aside. Immediately the mob of Georgia, bloodthirsty, lawless, cowardly and ignorant, threatened the governor and besieged him in his house.

Beaten on that ground, they instigated a depraved wretch in jail to assault and attempt to kill Frank. Only by the connivance of the jailers could such an attempt have been carried out. It almost succeeded. Even then there was no attempt made by the authorities of Georgia to give Frank the protection he should have had. He should have been removed at once from the jurisdiction of a jail where the law was openly disregarded.

Not so, however. Frank was left there to suffer through long days of unknown terrors and threats and perhaps worse until a mob went to the jail, took him out, and after whirling him away 100 miles hanged him from a tree, leaving the miserable body with its ghastly gash in the throat, inflicted by the jail assassin's knife, torn open by the pull of the murderers' rope, to bear testimony to high heaven of the evil and depravity of Georgia.

Frank may have been guilty; or he may not. There was very strong evidence to the effect that he was not—evidence that was ignored at his trial, but that had powerful weight with the governor who reprieved him. Frank was entitled to the protection of the law. What kind of a state government is it that permits a prisoner to be exposed to the murderous attacks of his fellows without protection, and then leaves him still further exposed to the mercy of a mob?

In this case the real murderers were the Georgia mob—that gang of individuals who rode to the scene of the lynching, struck at the dead body of the murdered man, and had even the vile taste to spit in the face of the corpse. That such scenes are possible in this age and in this country is amazing. Georgia needs the strong hand over it. Had such a man as ex-President Roosevelt been in power, there would have been no possibility of such a violation of justice happening. Under any proper regime Frank long ago would have been taken out of the hands of those who had planned his death.

ROUMANIA'S POLICY OF DELAY

Ever since the beginning of the European war Roumania has held herself aloof from both sides, though showing an inclination for the cause of the allies. Roumania has an excellent army, well drilled and equipped in modern style. She is especially strong in artillery and has had opportunity to season her soldiers in the days of the recent war with Turkey. Naturally her services have been sought by both sides.

Roumania, however, has held aloof and maintains that she is doing the allies a much greater service by that attitude than if she were to plunge into the war and should send a large contingent to the Dardanelles. Roumania has prevented the shipment of munitions and supplies through her territory to the Turks for nine months. Germany has raged and threatened and yet Roumania has stood firm. This has at last become a matter of life or death to Germany and Austria, and the kaiser has threatened and raged and brought every manner of pressure to bear on Roumania, but that country has not been moved.

Germany regards the situation with increasing anxiety. Roumania has been warned solemnly in the official and semi-official papers of the Fatherland as to what will happen to her when the kaiser gets ready to act, but unmoved Roumania pursues her policy of non-interference and the Turks are running low in ammunition.

There is no doubt that the fate of the Dardanelles is the point on which the war hinges at present. Should the British and French succeed in forcing the straits and take possession of Constantinople, Russia will be relieved. The vast stores of Russian grain will come out through the straits and the Germano-Austrian campaign will be in a bad way.

Already the German papers, speaking with official voice, are urging the German government, that is to say, the German government permits, nay orders, them to urge it, to let Roumania understand that after the war is over its independence may be taken away in obedience to higher interests.

It is beginning to be manifest that there is a considerable slackening of the Turkish defense and a similar slackening of the attack. It looks as though the Roumanian policy of excluding ammunitions from her territory were beginning to produce the effect of a regular breakdown among the Turks.

Roumania recently, through one of her officials, said that there would be no departure from her policy of preventing ammunition being sent to Turkey over her territory and as she absolutely controls the routes for that traffic, the blockade is effective. If attacked, the Roumanians are likely to give a good account of themselves.

It is surely most unfortunate for Mexico that at a time when the president of the United States had managed to get the Pan-American countries together to formulate some plan for uniting the various factions of the country, ill-disposed and greedy agencies should have endeavored to promote a clash between the United States and the Mexicans. That matters have not been worse than they have been up to this point is merely a piece of good luck. It is sincerely to be hoped that nothing will occur to mar the hope of a peaceful settlement that is now born in all Mexican hearts, except those that see profit in continuing the disturbances.

SUBSCRIPTION BUILDING CAMPAIGN

The Evening News management is now conducting a subscription building campaign. There are two newspapers published from this office, The Glendale Evening News, daily, and the Tri-City Progress, weekly. The daily is supposed to circulate mainly in the thickly populated parts of Glendale, Tropic and Casa Verdugo, and the weekly goes into the homes of people residing in the Glendale community and Burbank, La Canada, La Crescenta, Monte Vista and Eagle Rock. The combination of papers will serve as an excellent news-giving and publicity medium. Ask your friends to subscribe for either one of these papers.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. D. J. Graham, 235 E. Third street, Friday, August 20, at 2:30 p. m. The usual government study and an address on "Our Missionary Work" will be given by Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, state superintendent of the World's Missionary Fund.

The semi-annual dues must be paid to the state treasurer the first of September. All in arrears please come prepared to meet this obligation. A cordial invitation is extended to every one.

EPWORTH LEAGUE PARTY

When the young people of Casa Verdugo Methodist Episcopal church meet they usually have a good time. There was no exception to that rule last night when the Epworth League met at the home of Miss Maud Soper, daughter of the Rev. Julius Soper, pastor of the church. The young people had a most enjoyable time. Among the features of the evening was the singing of Japanese songs by Dr. Davidson, who has been a missionary in Japan for some time. Games, music and refreshments passed away the evening.

Members of the Holy Family church and their friends will make merry at a garden party tonight at the Governor house on Lomita avenue. There will be abundant entertainment and refreshments for all who attend.

EAGLE ROCK

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller of Peyton avenue left last week for their former home in Iowa. They expect to remain there for some time visiting old acquaintances.

Mrs. Gardiner, the librarian, and her children, Muriel and Glenn, have returned from the exposition at San Diego, having spent a week there.

Mr. Goedecker has purchased the confectionery stand on corner of Central and Colorado owned by Mr. Bower.

The Boy Scouts of this city, which were organized recently under direction of R. McNitt, enjoyed a tramp last Friday in the hills about Sycamore canyon.

Mrs. Minnie Goodwin has rented her home on North Kenilworth avenue to Mr. and Mrs. Harden and family who will occupy it very shortly. Mrs. Goodwin, her sister, Miss Leota Bond, and mother, Mrs. Bond, will move to Los Angeles. While here they have made many friends who will greatly miss them.

Rev. George LeClere of Rowand avenue attended the Tropic G. A. R. meeting Wednesday of last week at Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Stevens and three boys, Paul, Albert and Lawrence Stevens, of East Eagle avenue enjoyed a day's outing at Long Beach last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Green of Harvard Drive have sold their home here and returned to their former home in Chicago.

Miss Irene La Porte and brother Rollo have returned home from a delightful two weeks' vacation spent at Laguna Beach.

Saturday was a great day for the members and friends of the Methodist Sunday school as it was their annual picnic and it took place at Echo Park. A large crowd attended and of course the more the merrier. Games and races were enjoyed until noon when the sumptuous picnic dinner was the main feature and attraction. After the dinner was over more games were indulged in and then the children were put on the Eagle Rock car by the superintendent, Mr. House, and taken to their homes, the latter returning to the park for the evening's enjoyment. At dusk a "wienie roast" was greatly enjoyed by the young folks and the delicious buns with mustard on them made the wienies taste all the better. After this an hour of canoeing was spent on the lake, then all departed, voting it one of the grandest times had this summer.

The concert held last week Monday evening at the Women's club house under direction of Prof. Salem Parker was one of the best musicals ever held in this city. Besides the chorus of about 15 voices, others assisted in the evening's program. Ice cream cones were sold after the concert and the proceeds went to the M. E. church choir.

Many more books have been donated to the Eagle Rock library the last few weeks, which shows that the interest is still great and now that the library is under control of the city instead of the county it is hoped many more citizens will respond to the call for new books to fill the space on the shelves occupied by the county's books.

The third union service of the three churches was held Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church and the Methodist pastor, Rev. Smith, preached a very helpful sermon. The choir sang a pretty anthem, "Come, Sing Before the Lord," and Mr. Anderson of Boyle Heights sang two numbers, "The Twenty-third Psalm" and "A New Heaven and a New Earth" with the assistance of the choir in the last song. Next Sunday services will be held in the Methodist church and Rev. Creswell will preach. The Epworth league joined with the Christian Endeavor Sunday evening and had a very interesting meeting. Mr. House was leader and the subject was "Keeping One's Self Aseptic Against Temptation."

Miss Olive Moe entertained at her home Tuesday afternoon with a surprise party on Master Albert Stevens who soon leaves with his parents for the northern part of the state. Games were enjoyed, after which a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess to the following members of her Sunday school class: Evelyn Vince, Fern Feaster, Hazel and Helen House, Bertha Hall, Jeanette Braddock, Marion Kingdon, Elsa May Scouten, Ernest Ogilvie, Albert Scouten, Franklin Wight, Paul Bates, Joe Stephens, Wayne Kingdon, Ernest McCormick, Arthur McCormick, Lawrence Stevens, Paul Stevens and the honored guest, Albert Stevens.

YOUTHFUL MECHANIC

Waldomau Weaver, fifteen-year-old son of Chas. N. Weaver of Michigan avenue, La Canada, is busily engaged in constructing a genuinely new type of cycle-tricar. Using a Wagner motor, which propels the sole rear motorcycle wheel, and two bicycle wheels at the front for guiding, the machine is taking semblance of a real auto, which will soon be gliding over local roads.

All the work of assembling and construction, except for parental advice now and then, is being done by young Weaver, even to the forging of several minor parts. The estimated cost of the car in the rough is fifty dollars.

In explanation of using only one rear wheel, to which the motive power is applied, the boy showed that he had uniquely solved the expensive part of cyclecar construction. One wheel requires no differentials—only a belt drive.

The Tropico playground ball team cross bats with the Pacific avenue team Saturday morning on the diamond of the Pacific playgrounds. The game was won by the Tropico boys. Sunday afternoon the Pacific avenue tennis team came to the Tropico municipal playgrounds and in a warmly contested game with the Tropico tennis team won the game. A large crowd enjoyed the sport.

OAKDALE

A merry party of Oakdale and La Crescenta matrons, maids and children "hiked" down to Verdugo park Tuesday morning, where they picnicked and enjoyed themselves immensely. The personnel of the party was: Mrs. E. Volker and children, Mrs. Bertrand and daughter, Mrs. E. J. Foy and daughter, Mrs. G. N. Foy and Miss Virginia Andrews. Mr. G. N. Foy, who is employed on the new bridge, joined the party at the noon hour and did his part to care for the elaborate picnic dinner served.

Mrs. L. M. Clarke made a flying trip to Los Angeles Monday on a shopping expedition.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Nutt of Huntington Park have purchased the fine lot on Honolulu avenue just east of "Audubon"—the Russell home—and will at once commence to improve the same by building a garage. They are planning to rent rooms here while their own home is being built. This estimable family will be a decided acquisition to Oakdale. Mr. Nutt is an energetic, progressive man, especially interested and active in school work, having been school trustee at Huntington Park during his residence there.

Mrs. G. B. Russell went to Huntington Park last Monday on business, returning Tuesday evening.

A most successful surprise party was the event of Saturday afternoon and evening, when the neighbors of E. G. Foy called upon him in a body with the traditional well-filled baskets. A 5 o'clock dinner was served in picnic style and while words cannot do that bounteous repast justice, yet those in attendance surely did, after which the affair was made most complete by dancing and games at the pavilion. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Matson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hingson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Foy, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Wallace and son Louis, Mrs. Dodd, Grandma Connelly, Miss Edna Welborn, Miss Clara Jones and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Foy.

Carol and Francis Foy went to Long Beach last Monday, where they are spending the week.

Mr. H. H. Plasterer of Glendale, who owns two fine lots on Sycamore avenue near Los Angeles avenue, was out Tuesday cleaning up and looking after the shrubs and trees they had planted. Mrs. Plasterer has been very sick at her home in Glendale for the past two months, but is gaining in health again and when she is further recovered they are planning on building here and becoming residents of Oakdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman of Los Angeles have been spending their week-ends camping near the Stone ranch for several weeks and are so well pleased with the valley that they are looking for acreage, with the idea of locating here permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Kemper returned Monday, but Mrs. Kemper was expecting to leave again soon on account of the serious illness of a sister's daughter at Tucson, Ariz.

Mr. E. G. Foy is remodeling his house on Piedmont avenue.

Miss Clara Jones has shown her faith in Oakdale's future by the purchase of the lot on the corner of Los Angeles and Honolulu avenues. This is really a business corner and Miss Jones may decide to improve it at some time in the near future.

Some wretch poisoned the valuable English bulldog belonging to Mrs. L. M. Clarke Monday night. The dog was not cross or vicious and the poisoning looks like a piece of mean spite work. An attempt was made to poison the dog once before, but it was discovered in time to frustrate.

Mrs. Connley of Honolulu avenue, who has been very sick in Hollywood, is much improved and is expected home about September 1.

Mr. Edmond Pultau, Oakdale's carpenter, cabinet maker and jobbing contractor, was in Los Angeles on Monday and Tuesday visiting friends and attending to some business matters.

Bruce Thompson was the victim of what might have easily been a more serious accident last Sunday, when the knife with which he was whittling slipped and penetrated his foot. The wound bled so profusely that everyone was very much frightened. Walter Clarke, who was present, put on a tourniquet and Mrs. Clarke was sent for. Mrs. Clarke cauterized the wound and the young man is now getting along very nicely.

Early to bed and early to rise, cut weeds and swat flies; mind your own business and tell no lies; don't drink booze or frequent low dives. Pay your bills and advertise; buy from men who have enterprise; keep your mouth shut, but open your eyes and you'll be healthy, wealthy and wise.

VALLEY VIEW

Sam Galbraith and wife have the foundation built for a new seven-room bungalow on one of their four lots at 1557 Colorado.

Will Case, who was shot in the Tropico hold-up Monday night, is a stepson of Mrs. Anna Case of 1562 Colorado and formerly lived there.

Chester Killgore of 1507 Vine street, who worked for Kilborn and

Peters the past six weeks, is not content to be idle so has started out to sell melons on the streets.

Valley View has furnished another youth to the navy in the person of Ben Durham of 1665 West Seventh, who enlisted last Saturday. Eddie Wood of 1635 West Seventh enlisted more than a year ago.

Pacific avenue and the cross streets are badly torn up by the excavations necessary for the installation of fire hydrants. It seems a pity that the paved streets have to be cut into, but the end certainly justifies the damage in this case.

There are some vacant lots in this section badly in need of cleaning off. Weeds taller than a man cover them thickly and are most unsightly.

The unwisdom of the projectors of Valley View subdivision in failing to make and cause to be observed stringent building restrictions, is apparent now when one sees shacks costing less than $500 and houses costing around $1000 on the front of lots facing on fine paved streets.

Joseph Renshaw and family returned home Monday from a week's visit to the San Francisco exposition.

W. E. Hammon, wife and two little ones of 1520 Colorado street, and Martin Van Buren and wife and son Sanford of 1531 Colorado went to San Diego today to stay till Saturday.

POPULAR RESORT

The Monte Vista tavern, conducted by Mrs. Frank Corey, has been of incalculable advantage to that community in bringing people from Los Angeles, and in fact all parts of California and the country to this section to spend their vacation. Mrs. Corey conducts an up-to-date hotel in every respect. The hotel has thirty large, sunny rooms, nicely furnished; a large, cool dining-room, where delicious home-cooked meals are served, including special chicken and turkey dinners on Sunday. Monte Vista is becoming a very popular resort. In the first place the climate and scenery are unequalled, the elevation is 1500 feet above the sea, and the place is ideal for both rest and recreation. The Big Tulejunga canyon is close by, where trout fishing and hunting may be enjoyed, and there are tennis courts and croquet grounds for those who prefer games.

LA CRESCENTA

Mrs. Joe Hawkins and children and Mr. Hawkins' sister, Mrs. H. A. Bernard, who is their guest for the summer, left Tuesday morning for San Diego for a week's visit at the exposition.

The Holmes-Walton company have taken over the Bonetto ranch, close to the end of the carline, and will subdivide it into half-acre lots and improve it with streets and place it on the market.

Mr. Joe Hawkins, resident manager of the Holmes-Walton company, reports many inquiries in regards to homes, lots and acreage in the valley.

Mrs. Sherman Bell and two daughters of Denver, Colo., who are visiting the fair, came out from Los Angeles Tuesday to visit their old friends, the Fred Russell family.

Mrs. C. D. Miller of Michigan avenue is visiting friends in Hollywood.

Mrs. A. Wise, who has recently returned from New York, was here last week and was warmly welcomed by her former friends and acquaintances. She may conclude to again make her home here.

Mrs. Fred Eaton is having plans drawn for a nine-room strictly colonial house, which she is contemplating building on the south side of her property here as soon as her elegant new home now in course of construction is completed. This next property will be for sale and it is needless to say will be built by A. Anderson of Glendale, who is so satisfactorily building the present one.

Mr. and Mrs. Schultz are now in full charge of the store and post-office and their bungalow home and improved acre of ground near the end of the carline is for rent.

Mr. and Mrs. Weatherbee have returned from their vacation outing and will make their home for the present at their ranch on Ocean View avenue and further improve the same.

Mr. F. E. Robinson of Los Angeles is a guest at the La Crescenta hotel and took a trip in his machine to Santa Monica on Tuesday.

Miss Cornelia W. Roberts has returned again to the La Crescenta hotel for another visit to that popular resort.

Rev. Theodore Hopping is the architect and drew the plans and specifications of the new Presbyterian church, which is to be built in Burbank.

J. Darraq of Los Angeles avenue is further improving his new residence grounds by the addition of a curved driveway leading past the house through a pergola and on out to the garage.

Miss Iris Rogers of Los Angeles was the guest of Mrs. Waltz of Los Angeles avenue recently.

The poles for the electric light wires out Fairmount avenue were put in position the first of the week and now to put a finishing touch to that attractive locality, the avenue itself should be made in fact what it is in name, a fair-mount-avenue.

Master Stuart MacMillan, who with his parents has been stopping at the Fairmount hotel for some time past, had so enjoyed his stay among the young folks of the valley that to show his appreciation for their many courtesies and friendship, he gave a party at the hotel last Saturday evening and a most delightful time was the result. Dances and games followed by refreshments made the spacious rooms of the hotel the joy center of the evening to the following guests, who signed their names on the hotel register and were loud in their praises of Mr. and Mrs. Hanger's ability in caring for their guests: Dorothy Cloud, Ethel Lowenstein, Meta O. Scheuner, Esther R. Conley, Alberta Bertrand, Gertrude Hawkins, Isabel Thompson, Marguerite Cloud, Edythe Potter of Calexico, Marguerite Hauber, Gladys Thompson, Norman Hopkins, L. E. After hearing excellent reports from the different departments of the society a social time was indulged in, during which time games were played and Dr. Davison of Japan, who is visiting in the Soper home, delighted all by rendering several solos and giving an interesting talk of his work in Japan, having been a missionary there for over forty-two years.
